NBEF Introduces the Alan Davis Shining Stars

The NorthBranford Education Foundation is proud to present the 2018 class of Alan Davis Shining Stars. The award was named after the legendary Principal at NBIS who passed away this past year. "Alan was an inspiration to us all and I can't think of a better way to honor his memory than to name this award after him," said Foundation president Frank Mentone.

The award is given to people who have had a positive impact on the North Branford community. The honorees this year are as follows:

John Calamita has been a part of the North Branford community throughout his entire life. For the past 44 years, he has been especially involved in the lives of many of our families through the gift of music, serving as the organist/music director at the Parish of St. Augustine.

During the past few years, with the combining of St. Monica and St. Augustine to form the Parish of St. Ambrose, John has also had the opportunity to serve our community in the Northford section of town.

John has led and volunteered with numerous programs and projects that have benefited our youth and community. His association with St. Augustine Knights of Columbus Council 9921, along with his employment by the Town of North Branford at Public Works, has allowed him to assist others by repairing or building ramps and entrances for physically challenged residents to access their homes, along with being part of the team that constructed the Northford Pavillion and High School concession stand buildings.

Giving to others through "time, talent and treasure" has been a big part of his life. It is in service to others through music and active community participation that has made John a "Shining Star" in our town.

John resides in Northford with his wife Sandra and has three beautiful children, John Peter, Evangalese and Michael.

Kathy Granfield attended West Haven public schools and did her undergraduate work at UConn, majoring in pre-veterinary medicine. Through a UConn science exchange program, she spent her senior year studying animal and environmental science in Rouen (Normandy), France. Two graduate degrees followed, one in environmental science and a second in science education. In 1994, Kathy took her first classroom job, teaching biology and environmental science at the Hyde Leadership School, one of New Haven's magnet high schools. After 8 years teaching in New Haven, Kathy joined the North Branford school system, and has been teaching 8th grade general science at NBIS ever since. During her time in North Branford, Kathy has served on multiple committees, including character education, school security, and curriculum development. Currently she is serving on a committee that is working to develop a new strategy to inspire student driven community service projects for the 8th grade.

Outside of school, a desire to help injured veterans recover from both physical and psychological injuries led her to create Veteran Angler Charters, a federally recognized non-profit which takes injured servicemen and women out on free charter fishing trips. A licensed USCG captain since 2007, she created a fishing program that uses a different approach from traditional recreational therapy, working with small groups only, with health care providers on board to provide assistance as necessary. With two colleagues at NBIS (Debbie Stone and Robert Hibson) helping with the start-up, VAC began with just one captain and one boat (Kathy) and has since spread to four states and five boats, providing free therapeutic trips to hundreds of veterans all over New England. The program has received multiple local, regional, and one national award for its work with injured veterans. Kathy frequently shares her community service adventures and challenges with her students, hoping to inspire them to use their own unique gifts and talents to find a way to reach out to those in need.

Lou Paternoster has been a resident of North Branford for thirty three years. He and his wife Betty Jo have three children Brittany, 33, Nick, 27 and Hailey 24, who all went through the North Branford school system. He also has three puggles - Derby, Miley and Tyson.

Lou has been active in the community for many years. He is currently a part timer at the North Branford Recreation Center and a greeter at Walmart.

He has been involved in North Branford Youth Basketball for more than twenty five years where he has been a four year president, four year vice president, 15 year board member, boys and girls travel coach for fifteen years rec coach for fifteen years and currently has been refereeing for fourteen years.

He was a board member of the North Branford Little League for fifteen years where he has been a Little League and Babe Ruth coach and has been umpiring for 10 and he currently serves as the umpire-in-chief for both softball and baseball.

Lou has also served on the Board of Directors for youth soccer, He was a eight year board member, where he served as president for four years, travel coach for ten, NBIS girls soccer coach for 6 years and the NBHS JV coach for one year.

He also served on the Board of Education where he was the Chairperson for two years, and he has been a twelve year parking attendant for the Potato Festival.

Cliff Potter was born and raised in North Guilford. In 1965 Cliff graduated Guilford High School and went onto Connecticut School of Electronics. In 1967 he enlisted in the US Army and served in Vietnam from 1968-69. After serving three years of active military duty Cliff continued his military service in the Army National Guard and Air National Guard for a total of 33 years. Cliff married his wife, Dolly, who is from Northford in 1970. They raised their children, Pamela, Daniel and Robin in town. Cliff worked for SNET for nearly 40 years and is now enjoying retirement. His love for the military and veterans continues today. Cliff serves as a member of the City of New Haven Veterans Affairs Advisory Committee. This Committee organizes and implements the Memorial Day and Veterans Day events in New Haven. Cliff is also the chairman of the 103rd ACS Alumni group, Air National Guard retirees that meet four times a year.

Cliff began speaking in North Branford Intermediate School (NBIS) when his wife, Dolly, a paraprofessional in Carol Papa's history class asked him to come speak. He still visits around Veteran's Day when he brings in uniforms, MREs, helmets, gas mask safety equipment for the students to try. In recent years Cliff has been invited to speak to the students by Kathy Granfield, science teacher at NBIS. He talks to the students about his military service in Vietnam as well as his stateside service. He explains the benefits of military life and how it applies to work ethics and work skills in civilian life. Alan Davis was a big supporter of Cliff's visits and always welcomed him. Alan would often sit in on his presentations.

One of Cliff's favorite memories as a boy was working on his neighbor's farm. In recent years Cliff served on the Town's Agricultural Commission as the first chairman. The commission was formed to promote farming in North Branford. He served for five years on that commission. He along with others has helped bring antique tractor pulling to our town which has been a huge success. One of the pulls takes place during our annual Potato and Corn Festival (POCO). Cliff and his crew of hard working volunteers started hayrides during the Potato Festival and it has been a big hit. The smiles on the kid's faces who have never seen a tractor and hay wagon is worth everything to Cliff. He now does them at the Town Christmas Tree Lighting and the line is endless. "Bringing a little joy to families for the holidays if what it is all about." If you don't see Cliff at a tractor pull or hayride you may have seen him at a Town Council or Board of Education Meeting. He loves our little town, speaks his mind; always polite and gracious.

The Dinner will be held on Wednesday, March 21, at Woodwinds in Branford. Tickets are $45 per person. Anyone wishing to purchase tickets or honor one of our "stars" with an ad in our program book can call Frank Mentone at 203-410-4254. Tickets can also be purchased at the Central Office or North Branford Intermediate School.

KENNEDY ANNOUNCES UPCOMING OFFICE HOURS

HARTFORD, CT - State Senator Ted Kennedy, Jr. (D-Branford) announced today that he will hold open office hours for all residents of the 12th Senate District on Wednesday, January 24 from 5:00 - 6:30 p.m. at the Atwater Memorial Library in North Branford.

“Serving the needs of my constituents is my number one priority. That’s why I have continued to hold regular office hours throughout the communities that I represent. I have appreciated the opportunity that each one gave me to have meaningful conversations with my constituents,” Senator Kennedy said. “Past meetings have given me important insight into how I can better represent my constituents, and led to several legislative proposals. I hope people will be able to attend my office hours so I can speak with them about the work I’ve done on their behalf and hear their suggestions.”

“My office hours are open to all citizens of the 12th Senate District, which includes the towns of Branford, Guilford, Madison, North Branford, Durham and Killingworth,” Senator Kennedy said. “Even if you cannot attend, you can always contact me or my legislative aide about how I can address the issues that you and your family care about. I will continue to keep an open door as we work together to make our region of the state an even better place to live and to work.”

State Representative Vincent Candelora Repatriation: Connecticut's Massive Revenue Gain

If you haven't figured it out, the part-time position of state representative is now year-round. The budget process feels like a never-ending roller coaster ride, and this week just added another curve to that ride. You may have read about Connecticut receiving a $900 million bump in revenue at year end.

As we struggle to prevent tax increases and right-size government, we may have some reprieve with this new revenue source. Before this revenue gets incorporated into the budget, however, we need to understand its source.

In 2008, the federal government passed the Emergency Economic Stabilization Act of 2008. Internal Revenue Code 457a requires all hedge fund managers to report offshore deferred fees as income no later than December 31, 2017. Historically, hedge fund companies were able to divert the receipt of these management fees that were charged by having the payments be made to offshore accounts; the Cayman Islands come to mind. These offshore funds grew tax free for up to ten years through 2017. Because the management companies typically elected to be a "cash-basis taxpayers", the companies did not recognize the taxable income until the cash actually was transferred to the United States. The law essentially required these funds to be transferred back to the United States and be recognized as taxable income by 2017. Naturally, these companies and individuals waited until the last minute to transfer these funds, and as a result, Connecticut recognized a windfall on December 31, 2017. Our new challenge is to understand what portion constitutes one-time revenue, and what portion reflects additional tax revenue on an ongoing basis. On January 15, quarterly estimated incomes taxes are due and will serve as an indicator.

The Governor and some legislators have asked that we ignore this revenue and continue to make cuts or increase taxes to account for our current year deficit of $220 million. I believe we need to take a wait and see approach. In one week, we will have a better picture of Connecticut's revenue. If in fact, this off-shore loophole is permanently closed, Connecticut will realize more revenue annually. In addition, by statute, I don't believe the Governor has the authority to continually declare a deficit and permit himself to make cuts and hold funding back when revenues are sufficient to cover the budget expenditures. Regardless, we need to tread carefully. As the stock market improves and these loopholes are closed, Connecticut may be positioned for better fiscal times ahead, but that money must be used wisely, because our unfunded liabilities continue to outpace any growth.

Ice Age?

It seems that 97% of the world has been programmed to believe - without questioning - the preeminent role of humankind in warming the planet to a dangerous degree, so much so that the governing bodies of the world implement measures that forbid the burning of fossil fuels that are necessary for third world countries to feed, clothe and warm their people. I suggest that this is either pure hubris or a calculated distraction from the reality that this same 97% already knows and accepts without reason.

The real "consensus" of science is that about 18,000 years ago vast glaciers covered our planet. They grew so swiftly that mastodons, saber toothed tigers and countless species were literally frozen solid in their midst, some in the act of digesting the fauna that was likewise rendered extinct in those regions. In North America these immense glaciers extended beyond New York and Wisconsin and were more than 2000 feet thick. Then, within the course of less than 2000 years, these glaciers disappeared, melting back to the nether regions of Alaska and Greenland, causing great flooding and further extinction of many of the life forms that had managed to survive the freeze.

There were no humans to blame for this sudden and intense warming. There is no evidence of any meteor impact to plain either the sudden freezing or subsequent thaw

So, do we have some reason to expect that the forces at work 15,000 years ago are no longer relevant to our existence? Or, perhaps we should begin to come to grips with these far greater forces and anticipate our need to adapt to the grand-scale climactic impact of such truly Earth-changing events. At a minimum, a real understanding of these grand forces might allow humankind to move inland in anticipation of floods or to more temperate zones in anticipation of global cooling. Or is there another agenda?

Project PRIDE is a special education preschool located at Jerome Harrison School, North Branford, CT. The program incorporates children without disabilities to model appropriate social, language and play skills within preschool activities. This program meets four days a week (Monday through Thursday) with two sessions (morning 9:00-11:30, afternoon 12:45-3:15). The program is seeking three and four-year-old children with typically-developing skills to serve as role models in our classes for the 2018-2019 school year.

To be enrolled as a role model peer, children must pass a preschool screening which assesses cognitive, speech-language, motor and social skills. Role model peers must be toilet trained. If parents are interested, please contact Mrs. Kohler at 203-484-1235, to schedule a screening appointment. The screening will take approximately 30 minutes.

NB Plastic Film Recycling Program – One-Year Update

The first year of the NB Plastic Film Recycling Program far exceeded all expectations. A big thank you to all the NB residents who made the program an overwhelming success. Through the end of the year, 3,200 pounds of plastic film was collected from the eight drop off locations around town.

For the most part residents are placing acceptable items in the bins, however, we are still getting items that cause us to take time to sort through and then throw out. The following bags are not acceptable: candy, salad, grape, frozen food, pet food, bird feed, and snack bags (chips/popcorn). Everything needs to be clean, dry, and free from food and food residue.

Drop off locations are: Smith and Atwater Libraries, STW Community Center, Northford Store, TJ's Launderette, Food Pantry of NB, Town Hall, and Country Paint and Hardware.

If you recall, NB earns a composite bench from the Trex Company for collecting at least 500 pounds of plastic film in a six- month period. Congratulations to Smith Library for winning the bench for the second half of 2017. Once the bench arrives in a few weeks, there will be a presentation ceremony.

The purpose of North Branford's Solid/Hazardous Waste and Recycling Committee is to develop and implement environmentally sound solutions and best practices for solid waste disposal and recycling management on behalf of our town.

BUSINESS BREAKFAST 2018

North Branford Economic Development Commission invites business owners and representatives to a Business Breakfast at Town hall on Tuesday, January 23rd at 7:30AM. Our guest speaker will be Christine D. Reardon MPA, Manager of Strategic Development for Workforce Alliance in New Haven. The Survey that many of you participated in last year mentioned the difficulty in finding well trained employees and opportunities to train present employees. Ms. Reardon will describe what is available through Workforce Alliance that would benefit North Branford businesses. There will be time for questions.

The Town Manager and Town Planner will be available after the talk to discuss Town issues. We also look forward to meeting the recently hired President of the Shoreline Chamber of Commerce, Sheri Cote, who will be attending.

All owners and representatives from businesses in North Branford and Northford are invited. We hope this will give you an opportunity to meet other business owners, hear an interesting speaker and have time to talk with Town Manager Mike Paulhus, Town Planner Carey Duques and members of the EDC.

Please RSVP to Townmanager@townofnorthbrandfordct.com Or Call 203-484-6000 by January 22.

DEATH NOTICE

Salvatore Geraci Sr. of Northford passed away December 22. He was born in New Haven, November 1, 1945 to Michael & Honey Geraci. He is survived by his wife Jessie Stone Geraci and two children Christine and Salvatore Jr.. He also leaves behind his sisters Leona Fernandez and Mona (Joseph) Ceravello and many nieces and nephews. He and his wife were both the middle child of their families of 7. He was predeceased by his brothers, Michael Jr.(Lillian), Edward (Nancy), John, his sister Jeannie Maltese and his sister in law Laura Stone Chesmar.

Sal worked in many professions before he became disabled at a construction site. He worked locally as a butcher at Forte's Market in North Branford for many years. In his healthier days he was a fixture at any local tag sale or fishing at Branford Point. He loved to hunt and fish; and spent many hours tying flies and inventing better crab trap weights. He always has a soft spot for young fishers, new to the sport. He would give his homemade flies to beginners so they could have a better chance of catching something. A private burial at sea will happen in the spring.
